

Bill of Rights Matching Cards

Introduction: The Bill of Rights Matching Cards game is designed as a fun review of all ten of the Bill of Rights.

QUEST INSTRUCTIONS

1. Print out the card sheets.
2. Cut the cards and distribute them to the students. There are 24 cards total for 12 different amendment questions; these include 12 Amendment cards and 12 Answer cards.
3. Have the students get into groups of four or five and assign one student to be the “Speaker of the Answers.” Each Speaker should get a copy of the answer sheet on the next page.
4. All of the Answer cards are already mixed up. However, each Answer card has a letter in the bottom-right corner so that you can easily help students know if the cards match up or not.
5. Have the students shuffle the Amendment cards and place them face-down on the left side of their desks. The Answer cards should go to the right side of their desks face-up. The cards should not be stacked but laid out individually.
6. Each student picks up an Amendment card and matches it with the appropriate Answer card, one at a time. The Speaker will verify that each match is correct as it happens; if not, the Amendment card goes back down as in the game Memory.
7. If you’d like, the first student in the group to complete the game can be declared the winner.
